Let's Get A Divorce

#1

by Victorien Sardou and Emile De Najac. Opens June 11

The entire population of Reims is breathlessly anticipating the passage of a glorious new law permitting divorce. And Cyprienne, adorable heroine of this delicious French farce just can't wait to spice up her marriage bed! But is her husband really the soft boiled egg he appears to be and her lover the hot pepper, or is it the other way around?

Of Mice and Men

#2

by John Steinbeck. Opens June 25

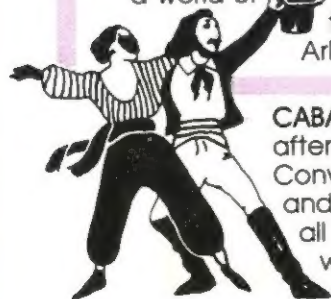

Lennie Small is a giant, tremendously strong and dimwitted. Unable to fend for himself, he depends completely on his only friend and protector, George Milton. But on a California ranch a tragedy is about to unfold and not even George can save Lennie. An American classic by the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of "The Grapes of Wrath."

Arlecchino Undone

#3

a new American play by Christopher Ceraso. Opens July 9

His name is Arlecchino. He is a dreamer...a juggler, actor, raconteur, poacher...and potential assassin. A mad fool on the loose in search of fantasy and a life to call his own. In a world of magic, images mock him and fantasy eludes him...yet, Arlecchino has the last laugh.

CABARET - a friendly place to relax after the show and meet the cast. Conveniently located near parking and the Barn Theatre - open after all performances. Beer and wine available at the bar.

JOE EGG

#4

by Peter Nichols. Opens July 23

Through sidesplitting vaudeville routines, Brian and Sheila tell the story of their marriage and the growing devastation of life with their ten year old daughter Joe - severely retarded, a "human parsnip." In this dizzying, desperate collision of comedy and tragedy, which starred Albert Finney on Broadway, you will be privileged to share in a story of pain, hope and overwhelming human courage.

A Midsummer Night's Dream

#5

by William Shakespeare. Opens August 6

DEEP in the shining forest kingdom of Athens, the MIGHTY OBERON uses supernatural herbs and the MOON'S MAGIC to overpower the INVINCIBLE TITANIA...SEE BARBARIANS, beasts and all-powerful goddesses CLASH in the fiercest LOVE-BATTLE ever! Join us for Shakespeare's best-loved comedy performed in the style of your favorite comic book super-heroes.

TO BE ANNOUNCED. Opens August 20

#6

A surprise ending to our spectacular 1980 Fifth Anniversary Season. We're looking for just the right play...perhaps a heartwarming classic or an extraordinary new play. We may unearth a forgotten masterpiece from centuries ago, or find a modern day award-winner. Whatever we find, you can be sure it will be the right surprise for you!

PROVOS - our celebrated series of new play readings. See the "works-in-progress" of this country's rapidly emerging playwrights. Past PROVOS seasons featured works by Peter Parnell and LCT's own playwright-in-residence, Oakley Hall III.
